CONSTANTINE QUILTS GREEK THRONE

For Second Time in Last Five Years—Revolution Is Still Spreading Among Troops

(By Associated Press)
London, Sept. 27.—Greece is in the throes of a revolution which already has caused the downfall of her government and, according to several Athens reports, has forced unhappy Constantine to abdicate in favor of the crown prince, thus losing the throne for the second time in five years.

The revolutionary movement, which is said to be led by General Gonatas, is making headway in all directions but thus far is without reports of bloodshed. The insurrection, while not altogether unlooked for, broke out in formidable force with unexpected suddenness among the vanquished troops brought home from Smyrna and among soldiers in Saloniki. Strangely enough, the two revolts seem to have different objects. One is aimed at the overthrow of the government and the other at the defense of the race against the Turks.

The Navy department said Long is apparently going to Constantinople as an observer.

(By Associated Press)

SENATOR STANLEY IN MISSOURI

(By Associated Press)
Mexico, Mo., Sept. 27.—The democratic campaign in Missouri opened here today with addresses by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, and Senator Stanley of Kentucky. Both assailed the national administration for "incompetency and inefficiency." Stanley stressed that freedom and liberty are being trampled upon and a bureaucratic government is being established in this country. He characterized Senator Reed as a fearless defender of human rights and urged a return to the constitution which he said guaranteed to every person equal rights. He declared that ever since the time of Thomas Jefferson the democratic platform has stood for the protection of the rights of people as provided in the constitution, but now there are 30,000 agents and inspectors employed by the federal government, and "every business man finds inspectors at his elbow, federal sleuths at his heels, houses searched, homes outraged and public highways dappled in blood of unoffending citizens by the multitude of agents ignorant of and indifferent to the law of the land."

BIG RACES

At least one feature event every day is on at the $90,000 program for Kentucky Great Trots at Lexington next week. Brilliant contests are certain; for America's best horses are entered.

On Monday, October 2, The Futurity ($7000) for 2-year-olds and the Walnut Hall Cup ($3000) and the cup will be decided.

On Tuesday will be the great races amongst the world's best 3-year-olds for the $14,000 that goes to the winner of the Kentucky Futurity.

Then the Cumberland pacers is on Wednesday and the Transylvania ($5000) always the best race of the year for all ages, on Thursday.

On Friday the public will see the Board of Commerce, in which three pacers each with a record better than 2:00 and four more with marks better than 2:01 1-2 are entered. This will probably be the fastest and most desperate race ever paced. On the same day the May Day (worth $13,000) will have a field of the greatest two-year-old trotters that ever took the word.

Then the classic, The Kentucky, is set for Monday, and both the Castleton (4000) and the Lafayette (2000) go on Tuesday, October 11, the Ashland and the Lexington will be the drawing cards and on Thursday there are 4, including that for pacers of the 2:01 class.

WANTS DRY LAWS RIGIDLY ENFORCED

Dr. Pickett Delivers Urgent Plea To Methodists Meeting At Barboursville

(By Associated Press)
Barboursville, Ky., Sept. 27.—An appeal for the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment was made here last night in an address by the Rev. Deets Pickett, of Washington, before the Kentucky Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in which he pictured the effects of a breakdown in the prohibition law.

"Stop, look, listen," was the Rev. Mr. Pickett's warning to the people of American who "tamper with home brew and who talk of 'my bootlegger'."

"You little women 'ho go about the living room shaking a cocktail mixer; you editors who are trying to make the law a lie by bringing back wine and beer and the beer saloon; you politicians who want the old saloon back because you need it in your business, you can't destroy the prohibition law, you can't ridicule and oppose the enforcement of that law, without striking directly at the safety of your wife and daughter, the security of your children and the stability of your property interests," the speaker said.

"Everything that is in and of America, everything that is worth while in the life of every individual in the United States, rests squarely upon the basis of law and order," said the Rev. Mr. Pickett.

"Prohibition is a part of the law of the United States. It is a stone in the foundation. There is only one way in which it can be gotten out of the foundation without wrecking the structure and that is by the due process of repeal."

"The fathers who gave us this glorious country—George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Madison, Ben Franklin, John Hancock—determined how the prohibition law should be put into the Constitution. They said 'If certain things are done in certain ways, they must be accepted by the entire people.'"

"They made it hard to make changes and they expected their children to accept the changes that were made according to the agreed plan making them."

"That plan is the bond of our Union, the only thing that holds our people and our States together. Destroy it, convince the nation that the people no longer believe in the rule of the majority, let the people begin to think that it avails nothing to exert the effort necessary to cause the submission of Constitutional amendment by two-thirds of Congress and its ratification by three-fourths of the legislatures, let them think that there is a minority who will hold that verdict in contempt and the rule of the ballot breaks down in this country, with unlimited possibilities of chaos in prospect."

"There are enemies of the American Constitution, of American law, of American society, at work among us today. The Bolshevik, the anarchist, the man who wants to destroy all existing social compacts, is here. If he prevails, you men who made money for the first time during the great war while sons of prohibition workers were making the world safe for democracy, will hear the mob rapping at your door, will see your women cowering in the darkest corners of the basement, will see your newly acquired wealth ripped from your houses to feed the greed of anarchy. Only one thing stands between you and that—the Constitution and the law."

"Take your choice, but remember what the break down of the law will mean to you personally."

The Face In the Mirror
Your face, does it wear the contented expression of good health, or are the features drawn and pallid? In the latter case your story is read by all who see you, and what woman of spirit wants to be pitied for her physical condition? There is a way to get the nervous, tired lines out of your face and the slump out of your body. The use of that standard remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, will strengthen the nerves and tone up the system to resist that excessive fatigue.

ALL FIRST STRING COLONELS TO PLAY

A letter has been received here from Earle Combs in regard to the baseball game which is to be played between the Louisville Colonels and a Richmond nine October 12, saying that he would like very much to perform once more in Richmond. He says that he does not think that there would be any doubt but what the game could be put over in fine style.

Combs states in his letter that the Colonels will use their regular line-up against the locals and that most of the squad will be along. He says that Myers will do the catching and that the pitchers along will be Estill, Dean, Hooley, DeBerry, Tincup, the Cherokee, and Long. The regular infield, which is composed of Kirke at first, Betzel at second, Ballenger at short, and Schepner at third will work in the game. The regular outfield, composed of Combs, Acosta, and Ellis, will start the game.

He says that the game will be the biggest thing of its kind ever pulled off in Richmond. The baseball fans here are wild about the game as they were at this time last year. Some of the best players in the American Association will be viewed by those who turn out for the pastime.

Among those who will probably be able to bear the coal shortage with fortitude might be mentioned the sellers of oil and gas heaters.

NORMAL NOTES

Enrollment at the Eastern Kentucky State Normal school is steadily growing with 450 Wednesday. There will be many who will come in the latter part of the week. There were only 396 enrolled at the end term last year. This is the largest number to enter Eastern at the opening in September in the history of the institute.

First chapel exercises were held Wednesday morning at 9:30 for the purpose of further organization and at this meeting President T. J. Coates gave the students a hearty welcome into the institution. He then introduced the faculty to the student body. John Orr Steward, head of the music department sang two songs, which added much to the morning's program.

ATHLETIC STARS COME TO NORMAL

Tuesday morning found among the galaxy of stars gathered together for enrollment at Eastern Kentucky State Normal School, two stars of state and national fame, Miss Glenna Wood and Miss Margaret Barber, of the state champion basketball team of last season. They played with the Ashland High School girls, five which defeated all contesting teams at the annual meet at Lexington last year and were thus proclaimed the champions of the state. Miss Marguerite Crockett, guard of the Sardis Hi team, which was the runner up in the tourney, is also here in school. There are others who have enrolled at Eastern who proved themselves real players on their respective teams last year. The Covington first string center is here. One of Cumberland College's five is here with intentions toward basketball at Eastern.

They come here with the determination to make a championship college team for Eastern. With this wealth of material it is prophesied that there will be some real basketball played by the Eastern girls on the local floor this winter.

EASTERN ELEVEN STARTING WELL

Coach George Hembree had a wealth of football talent out for practice on Normal field Tuesday afternoon. There is plenty of weight on the eleven this year for old Eastern and with several men showing real knowledge of the fine points of the game a real team is expected to be whipped into shape. The first game will be at Winchester Saturday when they meet Kentucky Wesleyan. Hembree hasn't had much time to drill his men in signal work, but he is putting them through. One of the best men seen in a Normal uniform in a long time is Harris, who was used as captain and handling the men in the first signal practice, on the home grounds Tuesday afternoon. Harris knows the game and he put a lot of pep into the work of the boys. Several graduates from Madison Hi have been showing up well in practice, including Talt Stone, Marshall Hurst, Coleman Covington and others.

Eastern's prospects seem unusually bright. A number of local fans will accompany the team to Winchester Saturday for the first game.

NORMAL ATTENDANCE SHOWS BIG GAIN

Students Continue To Pour In For Fall Session And 20 Weeks' Term

At noon Tuesday after one and one-half days' enrollment, the student body of the Eastern Kentucky State Normal School reached the 400 mark with many more coming in on the noon trains. At the close of the term of ten weeks last year the enrollment was only 384. This is a decided increase over last year. President T. J. Coates states that there is fully a 30 per cent increase in quality and quantity of the student body this year over that of any year before.

The preparatory work of students in former years was accepted without examination or credentials and students as young as 16. Under a new ruling no student is accepted under 18 unless he is not conveniently near a good high school. All students must be graduated from an accredited school or must take entrance examinations. This has raised the standard of the school and as a result two-thirds of the student body this fall are high school graduates as compared to one-third in former years. With the enrollment as it is, two-thirds of the student body will be in the college department and one-third in the Normal school. The college department is proving of great benefit and is what the majority of students want.

Another fact of interest is that these students have enrolled for one semester of 20 weeks instead of one term of ten weeks as before.

With the elimination of the term and dividing the school year into semesters with a summer school, this saves two weeks, one week of enrollment at the beginning of the term and a week at the end of each term.

MADISON WORKS HARD FOR FRIDAY'S GAME

Football fans are looking forward with eagerness to the first game of the season which is to be played here Friday afternoon on Normal field. The strong Stanford High school eleven comes to meet Madison High and a real battle is expected.

Coach Lassiter has been putting his men through grueling practice each afternoon and if they do not give a good account of themselves it is not going to be his fault, if he can help it. Some very promising material has been showing up the past few days, in addition the boys who have been mentioned before. Nelson Hurst, a new-comer is showing evidences of developing into a star line-man. In scrimmage Tuesday afternoon, he broke thru the lines repeatedly and got his man. Then, Buck Adams is showing up as well in his work and it's going to be mighty hard to keep him out of the line. Works Jayne, in two or three days' practice has shown fine form, too. In addition to his regular eleven, Coach Lassiter has a number of substitutes who will hold up their part well if they get into the game.

The boys were put through signal work principally Tuesday, although some hard scrimmage was done, between the first and second squads. The fellows who make the team are going to be the ones who are found fighting and following the ball all the time.

Stanford is said to have a cracker-jack eleven this season and the game Friday afternoon will be a real contest from start to finish.
